This research Quality of Life Study aims to gather information on parameters such as energy, mood, efficacy and others. These will be tracked on a monthly basis using a simple survey and will be compiled and analyzed by Quincy Bioscience.

Should you wish to participate in this Quality of Life Study, you will have the opportunity to experience the benefits thousands of people enjoy every day as a result of Prevagen®. Prevagen is an all-natural dietary supplement designed by Quincy Bioscience. Your participation in this research, in conjunction with others like yourself, will provide invaluable data and further insight into the use, safety and quality of life that Prevagen may provide.
